La Voce Italiana is the only newspaper catering to Houston's diverse community of Italian-Americans, Italian expats and Houstonians who love Italy. More than 5,000 readers enjoy each edition of La Voce Italiana's coverage of local, national and international news, and feature stories for those with an interest related to Italy!

It is published six times a year by the Italian Cultural & Community Center of Houston (ICCC), a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, and delivered to ICC members and subscribers throughout the U.S. and Italy. It is also distributed to locations throughout Houston for the general public to read and share. Each edition is also posted on our website www.iccchouston.com and remains available online for one year.

You can become a La Voce Italiana sponsor for as little as $75 per edition when placing a one-year sponsorship (six editions). This is a great way to be a part of advancing, celebrating, and preserving Italian culture and heritage for everyone.
